INTRODUCTION

An Index to Hagerstown Newspapers is a subject and personal name index to local and regional news printed in a select group of weekly and semiweekly English language newspapers published in Hagerstown between 1790 and 1890. Geographically, it indexes news of what are now Frederick, Washington, Allegany and Garrett counties, Maryland; Adams, Franklin and Fulton counties, Pennsylvania; and Berkeley, Jefferson and Morgan counties, West Virginia. This volume covers January 1, 1805 through December 31, 1809 of the Maryland Herald and Hager's-Town Weekly Advertiser and May 23, 1809 through December 31, 1809 of the Hagers-Town Gazette.

The project compiles the index from available microfilm copies of the newspapers with an effort to locate the most complete films. An attempt has been made to cover the major newspapers of the period rather than all the titles published. Not included, therefore, are several papers which survived only a short while and were not merged into the more established titles which were forerunners of the Morning Herald, Daily Mail and Herald-Mail. For a discussion of the publications of the era, see History of Western Maryland by J. Thomas Scharf published in 1882; A History of Washington County by Thomas J. C. Williams published in 1906; or "Early Maryland Newspapers" compiled by George C. Keidel in Maryland Historical Magazine, volumes XXVIII, XXIX and XXX.

A BRIEF HISTORY OF NEWSPAPERS: 1805-1809

The first newspaper in Elizabeth-Town was the Washington Spy, started in 1790 by Stewart Herbert and published until early 1797. On March 2, 1797, Thomas Grieves published "Proposals of Continuing the Publication of a Weekly Newspaper in Elizabeth-Town" and so started the Maryland Herald and Elizabeth-Town Advertiser.

The name of the paper indicated the nature of its content in that a large portion of it was devoted to advertisements and legal notices. The front page contained national and international news copied from other newspapers. Occasionally, ads also appeared on this page. The second page continued the first, except during election campaigns when letters to the editor or news of local events might appear. The third page was the usual location of local news and was the place a subscriber expected to see his ad appear for the first time. Literary pieces and subsequent appearances of ads composed the fourth page. There were infrequent editions which had a fifth page containing election messages or legislation and some ads.

The paper underwent two name changes before 1804. By 1805 the title of the paper was Maryland Herald and Hagers-Town Weekly Advertiser, which it kept until at least 1824. It had a "pro-Jefferson" editorial stance. The title reflected the continued usage of "Hagers-Town" as the name for Elizabeth-Town, in spite of the fact that it was not until 1814 that the Maryland General Assembly changed the name and incorporated the town as Hagerstown.

In 1809, a second weekly publication was started, The Hagers-Town Gazette. Its editor was William Brown. The paper was only printed for four years. It had a Federalist leaning. The editors of both papers frequently attacked the other in print and kept tract of the other's printing errors. The format of the Hagers-Town Gazette was similar to that of its competitor.

This volume of the index has been prepared from microfilmed copies of the newspapers (Volume 8, No. 410 through Vol. 13, No. 670 of the Maryland Herald and Hagers-Town Weekly Advertiser and Vol. 1, No. 2 through Vol. 1, No. 33 of the Hagers-Town Gazette). The Hagers-Town Gazette was microfilmed by the Museum for Early Southern Decorative Arts in Winston-Salem, N.C. The Maryland Herald and Hagers-Town Weekly Advertiser belongs to Enoch Pratt Free Library of Baltimore who filmed them for this project.

It is believed that the collections used are as complete as possible. Only two papers are missing: March 10, 1809 of the Maryland Herald and Hagers-Town Weekly Advertiser and May 16, 1809 of the Hagers-Town Gazette. Additional omissions from the films include pages 2 and 3 of February 22, 1805 and a portion of page 3 for May 3, 1809 of the Maryland Herald and Hagers-Town Weekly Advertiser and pages 3 and 4 of the June 20, 1809 Hagers-Town Gazette.

The microfilm for these papers is owned by the Washington County Free Library and is available for public use on the 3rd floor of the Alice Virginia and David W. Fletcher Branch in Hagerstown.

HOW TO USE THIS INDEX

Subject headings are arranged in one alphabetical listing and include personal names, businesses, occupations, organizations, buildings, geographical locations; the names of governing bodies, agencies, boards and commissions; and a wide range of topics reflecting the news coverage of the Maryland Herald and Elizabeth-Town Weekly Advertiser and Hagers-town Gazette.

The newspapers were four unnumbered pages in length and four columns across. In order to facilitate the location of an article, the pages have been referred to as numbers 1 through 4, and the columns as letters A, B, C and D.

Under the desired subject heading, the user will find one or more citations similar to the following examples:

(1)

() Parenthetical expression added to clarify or augment the content of the article

(9) Selected listing of up to two other subject headings under which the article is also indexed.

Cross references have been included to help the user find not only the desired subjects but also related materials:

Government agencies and officials are organized as subdivisions under the heading for the appropriate political unit of which they are a part:

The following list is a selected list of abbreviations used:

Please see a Librarian at the Information Desk on the 3rd floor for assistance in obtaining microfilm of the desired newspaper.

News Coverage

The index provides access to all items of local and regional significance, including coverage of the following:

- (1) Advertisements (e. g., description of goods and services offered; removal to a new place of business; reward offered for runaway; etc.)
- (2) Legal notices (e. g., announcements of estate sales, commission meetings, estate settlements, etc.)
- (3) Elections
- (4) Census
- (5) Crimes
- (6) Marriage and death notices
- (7) Editorials and letters to the editor concerning topics of local or regional significance.
- (8) Weather
- (9) Agricultural market prices
- (10) All names of persons or land tracts mentioned in the above contexts.

In general, omissions from the index include articles of national and foreign news, texts of legislature and political speeches, works of fiction and poetry, and political commentary unless items in any of these categories are of local or regional significance.

Of Special Note

Advertisements

While the same advertisement may appear repeatedly over an extended period of time, it will only be indexed once, generally in the issue in which it first appeared. Ads offering real estate include the location of the land in the parenthetical expression of the title line.

Personal Names

Because most personal names have been included exactly as they were found printed in the newspaper, there may be more than one subject heading for the same individual. For example, CASEY, SARA; CASEY, S.; CASEY, SARAH; and CASEY, MRS. Could all refer to the same individual. The user should therefore check all possible combinations and spellings to ensure finding the desired information. Names such as McNeal or VanHorne are entered without a space between the two portions of the name so that they file in strict alphabetical order.

Place Names

While the place name has been copied as it appears in print, from advertisements, articles on government agencies and events will appear under the location's legal name (e. g., Elizabeth-Town for Hagerstown).
