INTRODUCTION

An Index to Hagerstown Newspapers is a subject and personal name index to local and regional news printed in a select group of weekly and semiweekly English language newspapers published in Hagerstown between 1790 and 1890. Geographically, it indexes news of what are now Frederick, Washington, Allegany and Garrett counties, Maryland; Adams, Franklin and Fulton counties, Pennsylvania; and Berkeley, Jefferson and Morgan counties, West Virginia. This volume covers March 1797 through December 1804 of the Maryland Herald and Elizabeth-Town Advertiser, the Maryland Herald and Elizabeth-Town Weekly Advertiser and the Maryland Herald and Hager's-Town Weekly Advertiser.

The project compiles the index from available microfilm copies of the newspapers with an effort to locate the most complete films. An attempt has been made to cover the major newspapers of the period rather than all the titles published. Not included, therefore, are several papers which survived only a short while and were not merged into the more established titles which were forerunners of the Morning Herald, Daily Mail and Herald-Mail. For a discussion of the publications of the era, see History of Western Maryland by J. Thomas Scharf published in 1882; A History of Washington County by Thomas J. C. Williams published in 1906; or "Early Maryland Newspapers" compiled by George C. Keidel in Maryland Historical Magazine, volumes XXVIII, XXIX and XXX.

A BRIEF HISTORY OF NEWSPAPERS: 1797-1804

The first newspaper in Elizabeth-town, the Washington Spy, was started in 1790 by Stewart Herbert and published until 1797. On March 2, 1797, Thomas Grieves, who had married Herbert's widow Phebe, published "Proposals of Continuing the Publication of a Weekly Newspaper in Elizabeth-Town." This proposal, printed on the same press as the Washington Spy, stated that the folio size paper, The Maryland Herald and Elizabeth-Town Advertiser, would be printed "once a week, on Thursday, at an early hour" and cost two dollars a year. "In the conflict of political opinion," the editor pledged "strictest impartiality."

The name of the newspaper indicated the nature of the content that a large portion of it was devoted to advertisements and legal notices. The format followed closely that of the Washington Spy; however, the front page contained fewer ads than its predecessor and more national and international news copies from other newspapers. The second page continued the first with news of an occasional local event or a letter to the editor. The third page was the usual location of local news and was where the subscriber expected to see his ad appear for the first time. Literary pieces and subsequent appearances of ads composed the fourth page. There were infrequent editions which contained a fifth or sixth page, and they usually contained election messages or legislation.

In February 1801 the title of the paper was to The Maryland Herald and Elizabeth-Town Weekly Advertiser, and the price was increased to two dollars and a quarter. In 1804 the printer purchased new type, which was much easier to read, and changed the name to The Maryland Herald and Hager's-Town Weekly Advertiser as the name for Elizabeth-Town in spite of the fact that it was until 1814 that the Maryland General Assembly changed the name and incorporated the town as Hagerstown.

This volume of the index has been prepared from microfilm copies of the newspapers (Vol. I, no. 1 through Volume VIII, no. 409) owned by several libraries and collected and microfilmed by the Museum of Early Southern Decorative Arts, Winston-Salem, North Carolina. It is believed that the film is a complete as possible. It is missing only two issues, Vol. I, no. 51 and Vol. VII, no. 271.

The microfilm for these papers is owned by the Washington County Free Library and is available for public use on the 3rd floor of the Alice Virginia and David W. Fletcher Branch Library in Hagerstown.

HOW TO USE THIS INDEX

Subject headings are arranged in one alphabetical listing and include personal names, businesses, occupations, organizations, buildings, geographical locations; the names of governing bodies, agencies, boards and commissions; and a wide range of topics reflecting the news coverage of the Maryland Herald and Elizabeth-Town Weekly Advertiser and Hagers-town Gazette.

The newspapers were four unnumbered pages in length and four columns across. In order to facilitate the location of an article, the pages have been referred to as numbers 1 through 4, and the columns as letters A, B, C and D.

Under the desired subject heading, the user will find one or more citations similar to the following examples:

Government agencies and officials are organized as subdivisions under the heading for the appropriate political unit of which they are a part:

News Coverage

The index provides access to all items of local and regional significance, including coverage of the following:

- (1) Advertisements (e. g., description of goods and services offered; removal to a new place of business; reward offered for runaway; etc.)
- (2) Legal notices (e. g., announcements of estate sales, commission meetings, estate settlements, etc.)
- (3) Elections
- (4) Census
- (5) Crimes
- (6) Marriage and death notices
- (7) Editorials and letters to the editor concerning topics of local or regional significance.
- (8) Weather
- (9) Agricultural market prices
- (10) All names of persons or land tracts mentioned in the above contexts.

In general, omissions from the index include articles of national and foreign news, texts of legislature and political speeches, works of fiction and poetry, and political commentary unless items in any of these categories are of local or regional significance.

Of Special Note

Advertisements

While the same advertisement may appear repeatedly over an extended period of time, it will only be indexed once, generally in the issue in which it first appeared. Ads offering real estate include the location of the land in the parenthetical expression of the title line.

Personal Names

Because most personal names have been included exactly as they were found printed in the newspaper, there may be more than one subject heading for the same individual. For example, CASEY, SARA; CASEY, S.; CASEY, SARAH; and CASEY, MRS. Could all refer to the same individual. The user should therefore check all possible combinations and spellings to ensure finding the desired information. Names such as McNeal or VanHorne are entered without a space between the two portions of the name so that they file in strict alphabetical order.

Place Names

While the place name has been copied as it appears in print, from advertisements, articles on government agencies and events will appear under the location's legal name (e. g., Elizabeth-Town for Hagerstown).
