

Your Charitable Intentions

When it comes to your estate, do you have “charitable intentions”, but don’t know how to go about it? Are you considering a bequest to a nonprofit that you honor and have faith that your gift will be put to good use?

Are you planning for your estate or considering changes to your will?

Have you thought about naming the Washington County Free Library as a beneficiary of your IRA, 401K or life insurance policy?

Really?!?! The Library

Yes! The Library! The Washington County Free Library is a 501(c)3 nonprofit organization.

“Libraries allow children to ask questions about the world and find the answers. And the wonderful thing is that once a child learns to use a library, the doors to learning are always open.” - Laura Bush

Where People & Possibilities Meet

Your library puts gifts to work in many ways.

It uses private funds to offer and expand services and educational opportunities for all. It offers a variety of lectures, concerts, movies, author visits, book discussions, classes, research help, exhibits, story-times and more, all at no cost to those who choose to attend.

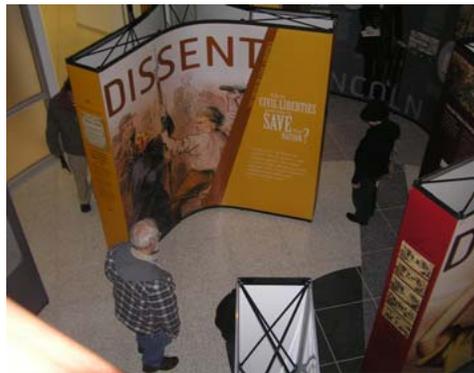

"Libraries [are] full of ideas—perhaps the most dangerous and powerful of all weapons." - Sarah J. Maas

Your library is committed to economic development.

From classes as diverse as computer training, resume writing assistance, job research, to seminars on how to dress for interviews, the library offers a variety of programs actively supporting workforce development.

"A library outranks any other one thing a community can do to benefit its people." - Andrew Carnegie
